REPUBLICAN TICKET IS BROKEN IN ONE PLACE

T. R. Eagye Wins for School Director Over John Fries

HOW LOCAL VOTE WENT

G. O. P. Municipal Candidates Easy Winners for Majority of Offices

Nearly everything went Republican in Charleroi Tuesday, as indicated by the preceding primary election. With only the ordinary efforts made by interested persons—candidates and their friends—the phenomenol vote of 1,059 was polled. The division of the borough into six precincts made the work of manning the polls by friends of the various candidates much more difficult than when there were but three districts in the town. There was no trouble of any kind, and the election was absolutely free from any personal rancor or bitterness being manifested on the streets or about the polls.

As all elections are expected to carry surprises, the surprise in Charleroi was the easy Republican victory for all but one candidate, in spite of the tremendous amount of cutting. Out of the 1,059 votes cast, there were only 351 straight tickets for all parties, 229 of these being Republican, so that about two-thirds of the voters cut their tickets, although the majority of them voted for the Republican candidates. Another surprise was the small number of straight Democratic and Keystone ballots that were polled, the combined vote being but 71 of which the Democrats polled 41 and the Keystoners 30. In point of party showing the Socialists rank second, as that party polled 48 straight votes in all the precincts.

All the polling places were opened practically on time, and there was no difficulty in getting a chance to vote. While some of the opposition candidates to the Republican ticket made a good showing, but one was strong enough to break down the aggregate vote in all the precincts. A personal attack was made on Frank Riva, Republican candidate for council for the short term, and detracting circulars were distributed the night before election The effort did not amount to anything, however and made but a sorry showing. Mr. Riva

Much Trouble Caused by Derailed Engine--Passenger Train Off the Track

When an engine overturned on the railroad near the Charleroi Lumber company Tuesday afternoon about 9 o'clock it was the signal for trouble which wasn't repaired until late in the evening The overturned engine completely blocked the south bound track, and all south bound trains had to transfer to the north bound tracks while going through Charleroi. Passenger train No. 168 in transferring from the north bound track near Eighth street ran into a switch, and partly off the track. It took nearly an hour to replace the train on the track.

Will Attend Cox Funeral

Governor Tener to be Present at Last Sad Rites of Deceased Speaker

Governor and Mrs. J.K. Tener after spending election day here left this morning for Pittsburg. Governor Tener will this afternoon attend the funeral of Speaker John Cox, and later in the week with Mrs. Tener and his secretary Walter Gaither will return to Harrisburg Tuesday night. Governor Tener and State Controller Samuel C. Todd, who was also here attended the annual game banquet at the Elks club.

SUPPER ENJOYED BY ELKS

Big Variety of Game for Annual Affair at Elks' Club

JURY TRIAL IS HELD

With Governor John K. Tener as an honor guest and with State Controller Samuel C. Todd as "Judge," the annual game banquet of Charleroi Lodge No. 494, B. P. O. Elks was held Tuesday night. The banquet was the most sucessful ever held and was attended by a large number.

Rich in all the deiicacies to be made from all kinds of palatable game, the supper was a chief feature. There was a bigger variety of game than at any previous banquet.

Hunters were haled before the court and Judge Todd gravely pondered their cases and pronounced sentence. John Jenkins said to have shot a bear was found guilty of telling a "bear lie." His bear was a tame one captured in Frank Frazier's theatre in Oil City. W. O. Brinham was high sheriff, D. M. McCloskey district attorney, George Newton attorney for defense and Fred Brady the court crier. The jury consisted of W. J. Garrett, O. J, Troth, C. F. Thomas, R. M. Wells, R. B. Drum and Squire E. E. Rice. Songs were sung and a general all round good time enjoyed.

Vote in Westmoreland.

In Westmoreland county the Republican ticket went through straight with the exception of Judge Steel for orphans court judge and Berkey H. Boyd for county treasurer.

Monongahela Republican.

The Republican ticket made a clean sweep in Monongahela Tuesday. All the Republican municipal candidates were elected, and S. M. Downer, the local candidate for county treasurer, received a big vote in his home town.

Finishing Up Work on Lock

Extensive Repairs Are Being Made at No. 2--Coffer Dams to be Built

An important work is being finished up this week by the United States Steamer Slackwater at Lock No. 2, on the Monongahela river. New wickets and new gates valves are being installed and gates are being repaired and refitted. New miter sills, new angle irons and other improvements are being installed. The motive power is being repaired and new electric cables installed. After this work is finished there will begin the construction of coffer dams in order that other necessary repairs may be made about the dam and the lock.

FUSION TICKET STRONG

North Charleroi Voters Show Democratic-Keystone Favor

LOCAL OFFICES FILLED

North Charleroi showed a strong fusion sentiment and the Democratic-Keystone candidates led in number of the county and local offices. Barnum proved the favorite of all, polling 78 votes. Lutton, on the Republican ticket for Sheriff carried well. There was a lively interest in the borough ticket and there were 133 votes cast. The result follows:

County Commissioner—Berry, R, 40; Hill, R, 48; Smith, D-K, 43; Barnum, D-K, 78; Ferguson, P, 4; Hoagland, P, 1; Alter, S, 11; Donelson, S, 12.

County Treasurer—Downer, R, 52; McCarrell, D-K, 54; Campbell, P, 4; Stewart, S, 14.

Lewis Has Narrow Escape From Defeat by Martin

DIFFERENCE 60 VOTES

A. P. Barnum, of Allenport, Beats Out Smith for County Commissioner

With 133 precincts of the county heard from at 1:30 o'clock today a complete Republican victory is indicated The hottest fight was in the election of prothonotary and the returns carefully computed show Lewis to lead over Martin about 60 votes. Both polled about 7,500 votes and it will take the official count to decide the correct result

Robert G. Lutton leads the ticket with approximately 9,500 votes. Miller for district attorney polled a total vote of approximately 9,200. A. P. Barnum of Allenport is declared a winner by about 300 plurality over Smith for minority place on the board of county commissioners. Berry and Hill polled a vote 8,200 and 8,000 respectively. Smith fell down to 6,600.

The approximate vote for the county given as furnished by the Republican headquarters at Washington follows:

DUE TO THE PRIMARY.

The general triumph of the Republican party in both the county and borough at the election Tuesday is but another exemplification of the beneficient workings of the primary election law. In both the county and borough the people made a popular choice of candidates in the dominant party, and the general ratification of this choice at the general election shows that after having expressed their choice at the nominating election, they are satisfied with the result and are not subject to change

This is the prime object of the primary, and it is working out nicely. The result of the election proves very conclusively that the time to adjust differences and express one's preferences is at the primaries, and that when once the people express their choice there is small hope of everturning it at the general election. While there may , now and then, be individual exceptions, the general result is usually foretold by the action of the primary. The voters are pretty sure to stick to their preliminary action in the main, and if any element is dissatisfied with its party the time to adjust this difference is when the candidates are selected. The primary expresses the keynote of the election.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

Charelroi is to be congratulated over the excellent civic spirit displayed at the election An extraordinary large vote was polled, and events showed that it was interest in the local candidates which prompted this display of civic attention. All of the tickets had good men for candidates, and the foremost people of the town were active in a legitimate way in the interests of the candidates they favored. Better than all, the electioneering was in a spirit of neighborliness and good fellowship and there was no bitterness or personal hostility displayed by those really interested in the welfare of the town.

This speaks well for the continued civic progress of Charleroi. The result of the election has given to the town a good corp of officials, and all that remains now is for every citizen to give his hearty support. The same interest shown all the year around as at the election will inaugurate a better spirit among our people, and stimulate them on to continued activity in behalf of the general well being of the town.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

When the postal savings bank was established in New Castle lately the cub reporter was given a dollar by the editor of the Herald,and told to go open an account and write up his experiences. This is what he wrote:

The clerk took down some papers that looked like checks. He made out a pink one and shoved it through the window. He filled out another and started to ask personal questions. After making a huge "1" in the blank space following "Acct. No.—" he got the name and then started on another blank. Questions came in rapid fire succession and some required an exertion of the memory.

"Age?" "Date of birth?" "Place of birth?" "Name of father?" "Mother's maiden name?" were some of them "Yes, and I am five feet eight, swear once in a very great while, use a safety razor, smoke a little, like mince pie, own two red neckties and have three fillings in my teeth," said the experimenter, slightly nettled."

The clerk waved his hand impatiently

"Don't bother me. This is a new job. What's your address? Occupation? Ah, yes, a newspaper man. Are you printer, office boy, delivery boy, proof reader, printer's devil or a reporter?"

"The latter," shortly.

"I thought so," laconically.

"Sign your name here," continued the clerk. "If you can't write make a mark and I'll get a witness."

The newspaper man signed without a word. He had been thoroughly intimidated at this rigid adherence to rules and regulations. He was given his coupon, placed in a stiff card board holder marked "No. 1" and departed.

"Ever run across a person who is always wanting to borrow books but never thinks of returning them?" asked a woman who is kell known in town as a great reader. 'That is the worst thing I have to contend with in loaning books. Whenever I have a good book I always want my friends to enjoy it with me, but I also insist on them observing my property rights When I loan a book and after it has been kept a reasonable length of time I mail a polite note requesting its return on the plea that some one else wants to read it, which is usually true Not long ago I sent a note to a lady asking her to return a number of my books she had accumulated at odd times. The books came, together with the following note:

"'Dear Mrs——: I have great joy in returning the volumes you have loaned me.'

"I could not resist the temptation, so I wrote her a note of acknowledgement, saying:

"'Dear Miss——: All the joy is mine.'"

The Nation of Hotel Keepers.

The " playground of Europe" is the very appropriate name bestowed upon Switzerland. In the summer time tourists come from all parts of the world and fill the hotels—the best organized and best kept of any in the world—for the Swiss are a nation of hotel keepers. The statement of the Chocolate Soldier, the hero of Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," that his family has a home with three hundred rooms, fifty servants, twenty cows and so on, sounded like a baronial tale until he explained that he was the son of a Swiss hotel keeper. Now the long and severe Swiss winter has been turned to advantage, and even when the great, blue lakes are frozen and the snow mantles the lower hills, the tourist still raves over the varied beauties and grandeur of the Swiss scenery and the many delights of her mountain hosteiries.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

Snail Millions of Years Old.

A petrified prehistoric snail embedded in the heart of a large piece of blue lias stone, was discovered a few days ago by quarrymen working at Cheddar Cliffs, Wales, upon some large boulders of stone which were displaced in the landslide which occurred some years ago. The discovery is distinctly interesting to the geologists on account of the great age of the find, as, situated upon a very low strata, it must be millions of years since the snail lived.

British Capital for Turkey.

Gold, iron, copper, sulphur, coal, chrome, etc., are known to exist in different parts of the Turkish province of Hodeidah, which, in the opinion of the British consul there, will be thrown open to foreign exploitation in the near future, especially after the proposed railway is completed. This may, in time, provide an opening for British enterprise.

Here's Champion Nature Faker.

Some one was telling Sam about the longevity of the mud turtle. "Yes," said Sam, "I know all about that, for once I found a venerable old fellow in a meadow, who was so old that he could scarcely wiggle his tail, and on his back was carved (tolerably plain, considering all things), these words: 'Paradise, Year 1, Adam.'"

Avoid All Evasion.

Evasions are employed either to avoid speaking the truth or performing a good action. Hence, a lover of the real and true, as well as the tender-hearted and benevolent, hold them in direct and unspeakable abhorrence.

DEEP MYSTERY OF THE LAW

Man Who Won't Support Family Is Imprisoned and Wife Really Pays Penalty.

Mysteries, far beyond the comprehension of the average mortal, are constantly revealed in the law and its administration. The other day a much-harassed woman appeared in a Boston court and complained to the judge that her husband refused to support their two small children. She could get along without him, she said, but she demanded that he be compelled to go to work and help support his offspring. Her story was corroborated by witnesses.

So the judge found the man guilty and sentenced him to one year in the house of correction.

Here was what seems on the surface to be an easy problem. A husband and father, either through disinclination or through inability to find work, is brought into court on a charge of non-support. In order to relieve the situation, he is sent to the house of correction, where he will be kept at work. That he is not able to send his pay envelope home to his family every Saturday night—because there is no pay envelope in such cases—is, in the eye of the law, a minor circumstance. The main thing seems to be that the man has been guilty of an offense and that he is punished for it. He is punished, but it is his wife and his two helpless children who pay the penalty.

The law may be ironical, but it has no sense of humor. "You have been found guilty of not supporting your children," it says, "and therefore I will send you where you cannot support them."

The annual production of mercury has risen to 3,535 tons. The United States produce 1,043 tons; Spain, with Almada, furnishing 834 tons; Austria, with Istria, 570 tons; Italy, Monte-Amiata, 370 tons; Russia, Nikitofka, 318 tons; Mexico, 190 tons; other countries, including Japan and China, furnish the remainder, about 200 tons.

Not the Conservatory.

Young Lady—The Musical conservatory is in this building, isn't it?

Janitor—No, mum; the Musical conservatory is 'bout two blocks down street.

Young lady, dubiously—I—I was sure I heard pupils practicing vocal exercises. Are you sure the Musical conservatory is not here?

Janitor—Yes'm. Nothin' here but dentists' offices, mum.—New York Weekly.

Councilman-Elect Gives Version of Distrubution of Dirculay

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Sir—I take the liberty of using a little space in your paper to thank my many friends for the support given me at the election, as my easy success was entirely unexpected by me.

I also take this means to inform my many friends and the general public that the false, malicious and undeserved statements made against me at the eleventh hour were unjustified, as since the clerks' union was organized any clerks employed by me have never worked more than the hours fixed by the union, and less than some clerks have to work in so-called union stores. I never have defied organized labor in my life, but on the contrary have been a lifelong friend to the cause and helped it along in many ways. I do know that there was another candidate for council who has taken the same stand in reference to the clerks' union that I did, but no mention was made of his name in the small slanderous ciruclar passed around against me.

Thanking you for the publication of my statement, I am,

Very truly yours,
Frank Riva.

Keep Plants Free From Dust.

Dust is an enemy to plant life. Plants breathe through their leaves; therefore it is necessary to keep them free from dust. At least once a week, and oftener if the room is very warm or dusty, the plants should be put in the bathtub on their side and gently sprinkled with a bath spray.

"Why people should weep over the imiginary sorrows shown on the stage, when there is so much real sorrow in the world, I never could understand," says a well known writer.

And it is just as hard for us to see why people will suffer needlessly for months or years . Here is the case of M. Carter of South Akron, O., who says:

"For two years I was in a badly run-down condition, felt weak and miserable and lost considerable flesh. Then I heard that Vinol was a great thing to build up the body and create new strength.

"Now, after taking Vinol and getting so much good from it I have decided to write and tell you that it has made me strong and well again and I have gained in weight, too."

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at the time of child-birth, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

The Daily Newspaper

All experienced advertisers acknowledge that familiarity by the public with the name and nature of their wares is one of the first essentials of success. To attain this familiarity the eye must be appealed to, and appealed to repeatedly. Sporadic appeals are as useless as a bucket of water thrown on an arid plain. What the eye sees the mind holds, but they must see it daily---and the daily newspaper offers the only stable opportunity for the direct aim at the vision. The story told in the daily newspaper, day after day, is impressed on the mind. This impression is a valuable factor.

The Charleroi Mail reaches practically every English reading household in Charleroi, besides circulating up and down the river. At no time in the history of Charleroi has any Charleroi newspaper been so widely or eagerly read than is the Mail at the present time.

Over 7,000 persons read the Charleroi Mail every day

Can an advertiser by any other means reach the eyes and ears of so many people in a single day?

What would the bill distributor charge you for distributing 8,000 bill a day? Compare the cost of the bills and the distribution with the cost of an advertisement in the Mail.

WAS THE FRIEND OF A KING

Merchant Told of the Strong Attachment of King Edward for John Bright.

An interesting account is given for the first time of an incident which began the friendship that existed between John Bright and King Edward VII. The story was told by Mr. Bright in the hearing of Mr. Connah, a merchant in Manchester. Mr. Bright, it seems, had, at a meeting in St. James' hall, rebuked those people who were criticising Queen Victoria for her rare appearances at public functions after the passing away of the prince consort. On the following morning the private secretary of King Edward (then Prince of Wales) called upon Mr. Bright with a special request from the prince to call upon him at Marlborough house. Mr. Bright at first demurred, but yielding to the pleading of the messenger, he went, and he was received in the most friendly manner by the prince and introduced to the family circle. The prince took Mr. Bright aside and as a son thanked him for his kindly words on behalf of the mourning queen, and asked to be granted the privilege of being counted among the tribune's friends. "Whatever may be my personal opinion of kings and princes," Bright said, concluding his narration of the incident, "the man before me was a son making an appeal on behalf of his mother, and I could not resist it. We shook hands, and have been close friends ever since."—Christian Science Monitor.

"AND MY WIFE, ROSIE," TOO

Bridegroom Who Had Forgotten to Register His New Better Half Quickly Makes Amends.

In spick and span raiment, carrying each a new suit case and a timid expression, they entered the Hotel Narragansett and inquired the way uneasily to the desk, says the Providence Journal.

Spying a kernel of rice on the youth's hat brim, the clerk smiled covertly, whirled the register with an encouraging flourish and placed the inked pen in the nerveless hand.

"John B—, New Bedford, Mass," wrote the youth, pushed back his hat, upset the kernel of rice and wiped his beaded brow.

"But, er—the lady?" inquired the clerk soothingly.

"She's my wife," quoth the youth, straightening up, bristling.

"She ought to be registered," advised the clerk thoughtfully.

"Ain't you put me down?" the lady murmured, looking over the youth's shoulder.

"O, sure. I—I forgot. Gimme the pen," said the youth, quickly.

Whereupon he smiled and wrote: "And my wife, Rosie."

"Think of the golden moments you have wasted playing bridge," said the serious friend "Yes," replied Mrs Flimglit, regretfully, "besides a lot of silver coin and paper currency."

PEIGNOIR AS CHURCH GOWN

Beatrice Grimshaw's South Sea Island Laundress Couldn't Resist Temptation of the Garment.

It would be hard to find a spot where the subject of dress does not sway the feminine mind To the world at large its observance causes either a great deal of pleasure or a good store of amusement. In the category of amusement may be placed the proceedings of the dusky belles described by Beatrice Grimshaw in her book, "In the Strange South Seas."

A lace-trimmed garment of mine, usually worn at night under the shelter of sheets and quilts, went to a Sunday morning church as a best dress in full daylight, on the person of the laundress intrusted with my wash. The funny side was so conspicuous that she never got the reproof she deserved.

A certain flower toque, made of poppies—a bloom unknown in the Pacific—first drove the women of the island half-distracted with excitement, then led 36 native ladies to appear simultaneously at a dance wearing excellent copies of my Paris model, done in double scarlet hibiscus from the bush.

A wedding, from which, unfortunately, I was absent, furnished the finest display of native dress that took place that year. The bride wore 14 silk dresses, not all at once, but one after another, changing her dress again and again during the reception, until the white spectators were fairly giddy.—Youth's Companion.

Truth About "Midnight Oil."

People talk about the midnight oil as if it had some virtue attached to it. In truth, four times out of five, the midnight oil is mere over-work, or means that you have neglected some duty to which you should have attended before the sun went below the horizon.—Edward Everett Hale.

Not So Bad as That.

This little boy was making his first struggle with natural history. Observing for the first time a very fluffy, silky spaniel, he remarked: "Some dogs have feathers, and other dogs just skin."

Small Demand for Buttons.

The Rev. G. Preston Tonge of St. Paul's church, Yarmouth, England, in his Parish Magazine, under the heading of "Acknowledgments," says: "Several anonymous contributions of buttons have been received. We are still wondering how to use these girls to the best advantage in the district, as, for obvious reasons, they are unsuited to the needs of the heaten."

Relative Prominence.

"That distinguished guest made quite an impression in your community during his brief visit." "Yes," replied Farmer Corntossel; "there were moments when he seemed nigh as important as the chairman of the reception committee."

ATHENA UNDERWEAR

For Women, Misses and Children

is made in firmly knitted elastic fabrics that do away with wrinkles under the corset—a great cause of discomfort in the ordinary underwear.

Athena underwear fits the figure with the smoothness of a silk stocking. It insures comfort without bulk—daintiness with wearability.

Here are some of its special merits:

A patented seat that gives extra room where room is most needed. A special stay that prevents the garment from stretching over the shoulder. An elastic cuff that holds the sleeve in place and keeps it from slipping up on the arm. Trimming put on in an improved way, giving exquisite daintiness that is not lessened by washing.

In all shapes and fabrics at the price you usually pay. Try Athena for the children. A perfect fit for all ages—from two to sixteen years.

English Hermit's Strange Life.

There died the other day, at the age of eighty-two, a hermit named Lewis, who for the last 20 years has existed on shellfish and lived in his covered trawler, beached at Lower Fishguard. He never varied his dietary, except when shellfish was scarce, and then he substituted bread and cheese. To within two days of his death he was in robust health.—London Answers.

Few There Are Who Learn Wisdom.

A Chicago woman tried to undo a hard knot in her dress by burning it. She succeeded in exactly the same swift, comprehensive way in which the reluctant morning fire is started with kerosene. So few are the wise people who learn from experience of the foolish ones.

She Knew What to Do.

A North side matron, directing an electric coupe for the first time, ventured far out on the South side and punctured a tire. She drove home on the rim and came in for a scientific treatise on tires from her husband.

"Never drive the electric with a busted tire," said he. "It will ruin the tire, and tires cost money."

Another puncture followed a few days later, but this time she was not far from home.

Also this time she did not drive the rest of the way.

She sat in her chariot and six boys pushed her home.—Chicago Post.

Steamer Swan Takes Place of Goldenrod in Lighthouse Service

ON TRIP UP THE RIVER

The United States Steamer Swan, of which W. H. Shannon, is captain, is out now on the second annual inspection of lighthouses. The inspection started Monday and will be finished this week along the Monongahela river.

The Steamer Swan takes the place of the Goldenrod, the light house tender, which recently went out of commision. The duties of the Swan will be to look after beacon lights.

Individuals take care of the lights along the Monongahela valley. Each of the beacon lights will be painted white. Oil, wicks and chimneys will be left for each.

While on the tour the Swan, which has headquarters at North Charlero passes out of the jurisdiction of the War department into the Navy department under which the lighthouse inspection is carried on now. It is manned by a separate set of officials.

Their Particular Sin.

A school for poor children having read in their chapter in the Bible the denunciations against hypocrites who "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel," were afterwards examined by the benevolent patroness, Lady—, as to their recollection of the chapter. "What, in particular, was the sin of the Pharisees, children?" and the lady, "Ating camels, my lady," was the prompt reply.

Good Mental Tonic.

As appearance means so much to the average woman, mentally as well as socially, the question often arises, "Is she justified in aiding or improving nature if she sees fit?" Many of our well-known medical men think that "make-up" is as good a mental tonic as anyone can take and greatly advise its use, especially for the girl who has some slight personal defect—a scar, a poor complexion or bloodless lips, for the knowledge of her defects makes her shy and oftentimes sulky and miserable.

Anniversary Remembered

In honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mrs C. Brown the ladies of the Dewdrop Euchre club of the Charleroi Turn Verein presented her with a beautiful water set of cut glass last evening. It was a complete surprise and the secret was well kept. This took place in the Turn Verein. after the regular euchre was over. To the astonishment of Mrs. Brown the ladies brought to light numerous hidden baskets and in a few minutes had the tables set for a fine repast which was heartily enjoyed. The evening wound up with music and a dance. The Dewdrop Euchre club was organized three years ago by Mrs. Brown, and meets every Tuesday evening at the Turner Hall.

Odd Sentences.

"Break rock for 100 days or go to church every Sunday for six months," was the sentence imposed upon three Kansas City (Mo.) boys, after they had been convicted of throwing eggs at pedestrians.

"I sentence this boy to a whipping every morning for a month. Not the namby pamby kind, but good, real hard ones; ones that'll make him eat off a mantelpiece. You'll find then that he'll develop into a good boy." This was the remedy prescribed by magisterial wisdom in the case of an eight-year-old boy who, his mother said, had a mania for running away from home.—Case and Comment.

Land Without Trees.

Thorshaven, the capital city of the Faroe islands, is said to be absolutely treeless. The claim is made that for some reason, perhaps soil conditions, trees absolutely refuse to grow there.

Donora's Big Vote.

Donora polled the banner Republican vote of the county at the election Tuesday, giving majorities for the county ticket of from 500 to 600. Dr. A. V. Lewis, Donora's candidate for prothonotary, went out of his home town with 681 majority over Martin, his Democratic-Keystone opponent, who only polled 95 votes.

GIRLS ACCUSED OF BURGLARLY

Pathetic Scene When Two 12-Year-Olds Are Called Before Court

Pitiable conditions were revealed in juvenile court at Washington Monday when Sylvia Spencer and Lucinde Phoebe Williams, girls of 12 years of age, were up to answer the serious charges of felonious entry and larceny. The two children had entered the home of A. J. Young in Washington and taken from there on two different occasions jewelry, clothing, handkerchiefs and other stuff. This they admitted. They also entered the cellar of a Mrs. Thompson and carried away several cans of fruit.

The girls are daughters of Elijah and Anna Spencer and Robert and Alice Williams respectively.

It came out in the evidence that Mrs. Williams has a very hard row to hoe and that conditions at her home are not the best for children. Her husband is bed-ridden with tuberculosos, and three or four of her eight children are tubercular and are taking treatment. One son was at Mount Alto and would not remain there. The daughter who is before the court is said to be tubercular. These conditions resulted in the children not receiving the attention they should.

In the Spencer home the conditions were found to be very bad. There is a family of eight. The father is ill with asthma or tuberculosos and the children have not been brought up in a very strict manner. Mrs. Spencer said she could do nothing with her daughter that she knew she was committing these wrongs, as she brought stolen goods home. The girl would also remain out at nights.

Rev. Mr. Standt, of the mission, North Main and Walnut street suggested to the court that a local family had agreed to take the Williams girl, give her a home, send her to school and take care of her. The court believed that if the conditions in this home suggested were satisfactory that the Williams girl would be given into that family's charge. The court made no order as to either girl, pending a future investigation.

carrying the most of the precincts with the average Republican majority.

The first and the fourth precincts turned out the largest votes, the smallest being the fifth. The vote was divided among the various precincts as follows:

First	297
Second	175
Third	126
Fourth	231
Fifth	90
Sixth	140
Total	1,059

The Republicans polled 229 straight tickets, the Democrats 41, the Keystoners 30, the Socialists 48 and the Prohibitionists 3. While the Socialists polled 48 straight tickets, some of the candidates developed more strength, Louis Goaziou of Charleroi Socialist candidate for prothonotary reveiving 87 votes. The Prohibition vote, which used to be between 30 and 40 was almost entirely lost in the shuffle

The count was long and arduous, the board in the first precinct not finishing up their work until nearly 7 o'clock this morning. Much interest was manifested in the borough election and many remained up until a late hour anxiously awaiting returns By midnight it was evident that the Republican borough ticket generally had won, and there w as consequent rejoicing among the interested ones who worked for the success of that ticket

A final tabulation of the votes shows T. R. Eagye a winner on the fusion ticket over John Fries, Republican, for school director.

HOW LOCAL VOTE WENT

G. O. P. Municipal Candidates Easy Winners for Majority of Offices

Nearly everything went Republican in Charleroi Tuesday, as indicated by the preceding primary election With only the ordinary efforts made by interested persons—candidates and their friends—the phenomenol vote of 1,059 was polled. The division of the borough into six precincts made the work of manning the polls by friends of the various candidates much more difficult than when there were but three districts in the town. There was no trouble of any kind, and the election was absolutely free from any personal rancor or bitterness being manifested on the streets or about the polls.

As all elections are expected to carry surprises, the surprise in Charleroi was the easy Republican victory for all but one candidate, in spite of the tremendous amount of plitting. Out of the 1,059 votes cast, there were only 351 straight tickets for all parties, 229 of these being Republican, so that about two-thirds of the voters cut their tickets, although the majority of them voted for the Republican candidates. Another surprise was the small number of straight Democratic and Keystone ballots that were polled, the combined vote being but 71 of which the Democrats polled 41 and the Keystoners 30. A point of party showing the Socialists rank second, as that party polled 41 straight votes in all the precincts All the polling places were opened practically on time, and there was no difficulty in getting a chance to vote. While some of the opposition candidates to the Republican ticket made a good showing, but one was strong enough to break down the aggregate vote in all the precincts A personal attack was made on Frank Riva, Republican candidate for county for the short term, and detracting circulars were distributed the night before election The effort did not amount to anything. however and made but a sorry showing. Mr. Riva

Wreck Trouble Caused by Derailed Engine--Passenger Train Off the Track

When an engine overturned on the road near the Charleroi Lumber Company Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock it was the signal for trouble which wasn't repaired until late in the evening The overturned engine completely blocked the south bound track, and all south bound trains had to transfer to the north bound tracks before going through Charleroi. Passenger train No. 168 in transferring the north bound track near Eighth Street ran into a switch, and partly off the track. It took nearly an hour to replace the train on the track.

Big Variety of Game for Annual Affair at Elks' Club

JURY TRIAL IS HELD

With Governor John K Tener as an honor guest and with State Controller Samuel C. Todd as "Judge." the annual game banquet of Charleroi Lodge No. 494, B. P. O. Elks was held Tuesday night The banquet was the most sucessful ever held and was attended by a large number.

Rich in all the delicacies to be made from all kinds of palatable game, the supper was a chief feature. There was a bigger variety of game than at any previous banquet.

Hunters were haled before the court and Judge Todd gravely pondered their cases and pronounced sentence. John Jenkins said to have shot a bear was found guilty of telling a "bear lie." His bear was a tame one captured in Frank Frazier's theatre in Oil City W. O. Brinham was high sheriff, D M. McCloskey district attorney, George Newton attorney for defense and Fred Brady the court crier. The jury consisted of W. J Garrett, O. J, Troth, C. E. Thomas, R. M. Wells, R. B. Drum and Squire E. E. Rice. Songs were sung and a general all round good time enjoyed.

Finishing Up Work on Lock

Extensive Repairs Are Being Made at No. 2--Coffer Dams to be Built

An important work is being finished up this week by the United States Steamer Slackwater at Lock No. 2, on the Monongahela river. New wickets and new gates valves are being installed and gates are being repaired and refitted. New miter sills, new angle irons and other improvements are being installed. The motive power is being repaired and new electric cables installed. After this work is finished there will begin the construction of coffer dams in order that other necessary repairs may be made about the dam and the lock.

FUSION TICKET STRONG

North Charleroi Voters Show Democratic-Keystone Favor

LOCAL OFFICES FILLED

North Charleroi showed a strong fusion sentiment and the Democratic-Keystone candidates led in number of the county and local offices. Barnum proved the favorite of all, polling 78 votes. Lutton, on the Republican ticket for Sheriff carried well. There was a lively interest in the borough ticket and there were 133 votes cast. The result follows:

County Commissioner—Berry, R, 40; Hill. R. 48: Smith, D-K, 43; Barnum, D-K, 78; Ferguson, P, 4, Hoagland, P, 1; Alter, S, 11; Donelson, S, 12.

Lewis Has Narrow Escape From Defeat by Martin

DIFFERENCE 60 VOTES

A. P. Barnum, of Allenport Beats Out Smith for County Commissioner

With 133 precincts of the county heard from at 1:30 o'clock today a complete Republican victory is indicated The hottest fight was in the election of prothonotary and the returns carefully computed show Lewis to lead over Martin about 60 votes. Both polled about 7,500 votes and it will take the official count to decide the correct result

Robert G Lutton leads the ticket with approximately 9,500 votes. Miller for district attorney polled a total vote of approximately 9,200. A. P. Barnum of Allenport is declared a winner by about 300 plurality over Smith for minority place on the board of county commissioners. Berry and Hill polled a vote 8,200 and 8,000 respectively. Smith fell down to 6,600.

The approximate vote for the county given as furnished by the Republican headquarters at Washington follows:

DUE TO THE PRIMARY.

The general triumph of the Republican party in both the county and borough at the election Tuesday is but another exemplification of the beneficient workings of the primary election law. In both the county and borough the people made a popular choice of candidates in the dominant party, and the general ratification of this choice at the general election shows that after having expressed their choice at the nominating election, they are satisfied with the result and are not subject to change

This is the prime object of the primary, and it is working out nicely. The result of the election proves very conclusively that the time to adjust differences and express one's preferences is at the primaries, and that when once the people express their choice there is small hope of everturning it at the general election. While there may , now and then, be individual exceptions, the general result is usually foretold by the action of the primary. The voters are pretty sure to stick to their preliminary action in the main, and if any element is dissatisfied with its party the time to adjust this difference is when the candidates are selected. The primary expresses the keynote of the election.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

Charelroi is to be congratulated over the excellent civic spirit displayed at the election An extraordinary large vote was polled, and events showed that it was interest in the local candidates which prompted this display of civic attention. All of the tickets had good men for candidates, and the foremost people of the town were active in a legitimate way in the interests of the candidates they favored. Better than all, the electioneering was in a spirit of neighborliness and good fellowship and there was no bitterness or personal hostility displayed by those really interested in the welfare of the town.

This speaks well for the continued civic progress of Charleroi. The result of the election has given to the town a good corp of officials, and all that remains now is for every citizen to give his hearty support. The same interest shown all the year around as at the election will inaugurate a better spirit among our people, and stimulate them on to continued activity in behalf of the general well being of the town.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

When the postal savings bank was established in New Castle lately the cub reporter was given a dollar by the editor of the Herald and told to go open an account and write up his experiences. This is what he wrote:

The clerk took down some papers that looked like checks. He made out a pink one and shoved it through the window. He filled out another and started to ask personal questions. After making a huge "1" in the blank space following "Acct. No.—" he got the name and then started on another blank. Questions came in rapid fire succession and some required an exertion of the memory.

"Age?" "Date of birth?" "Place of birth?" "Name of father?" "Mother's maiden name?" were some of them "Yes, and I am five feet eight, swear once in a very great while, use a safety razor, smoke a little, like mince pie, own two red neckties and have three fillings in my teeth," said the experimenter, slightly nettled."

The clerk waved his hand impatiently

"Don't bother me. This is a new job. What's your address? Occupation? Ah, yes. a newspaper man. Are you printer, office boy, delivery boy, proof reader, printer's devil or a reporter?"

"The latter," shortly.

"I thought so," laconically.

"Sign your name here," continued the clerk. "If you can't write make a mark and I'll get a witness."

The newspaper man signed without a word. He had been thoroughly intimidated at this rigid adherence to rules and regulations. He was given his coupon, placed in a stiff card board holder marked "No. 1" and departed.

"Ever run across a person who is always wanting to borrow books but never thinks of returning them?" asked a woman who is kell known in town as a great reader. 'That is the worst thing I have to contend with in loaning books. Whenever I have a good book I always want my friends to enjoy it with me, but I also insist on them observing my property rights When I loan a book and after it has been kept a reasonable length of time I mail a polite note requesting its return on the plea that some one else wants to read it, which is usually true Not long ago I sent a note to a lady asking her to return a number of my books she had accumulated at odd times. The books came, together with the following note:

"'Dear Mrs——: I have great joy in returning the volumes you have loaned me.'

"I could not resist the temptation, so I wrote her a note of acknowledgement, saying:

"'Dear Miss——: All the joy is mine.'"

The Nation of Hotel Keepers.

The "playground of Europe" is the very appropriate name bestowed upon Switzerland. In the summer time tourists come from all parts of the world and fill the hotels—the best organized and best kept of any in the world—for the Swiss are a nation of hotel keepers. The statement of the Chocolate Soldier, the hero of Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," that his family has a home with three hundred rooms, fifty servants, twenty cows and so on, sounded like a baronial tale until he explained that he was the son of a Swiss hotel keeper. Now the long and severe Swiss winter has been turned to advantage, and even when the great, blue lakes are frozen and the snow mantles the lower hills, the tourist still raves over the varied beauties and grandeur of the Swiss scenery and the many delights of her mountain hostelries.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

Snail Millions of Years Old.

A petrified prehistoric snail embedded in the heart of a large piece of blue lias stone, was discovered a few days ago by quarrymen working at Cheddar Cliffs, Wales, upon some large boulders of stone which were displaced in the landslide which occurred some years ago. The discovery is distinctly interesting to the geologists on account of the great age of the find, as, situated upon a very low strata, it must be millions of years since the snail lived.

British Capital for Turkey.

Gold, iron, copper, sulphur, coal, chrome, etc., are known to exist in different parts of the Turkish province of Hodeidah, which, in the opinion of the British consul there, will be thrown open to foreign exploitation in the near future, especially after the proposed railway is completed. This may, in time, provide an opening for British enterprise.

Here's Champion Nature Faker.

Some one was telling Sam about the longevity of the mud turtle. "Yes," said Sam, "I know all about that, for once I found a venerable old fellow in a meadow, who was so old that he could scarcely wiggle his tail, and on his back was carved (tolerably plain, considering all things), these words: 'Paradise, Year 1, Adam.'"

Avoid All Evasion.

Evasions are employed either to avoid speaking the truth or performing a good action. Hence, a lover of the real and true, as well as the tender-hearted and benevolent, hold them in direct and unspeakable abhorrence.

DEEP MYSTERY OF THE LAW

Man Who Won't Support Family Is Imprisoned and Wife Really Pays Penalty.

Mysteries, far beyond the comprehension of the average mortal, are constantly revealed in the law and its administration. The other day a much-harassed woman appeared in a Boston court and complained to the judge that her husband refused to support their two small children. She could get along without him, she said, but she demanded that he be compelled to go to work and help support his offspring. Her story was corroborated by witnesses.

So the judge found the man guilty and sentenced him to one year in the house of correction.

Here was what seems on the surface to be an easy problem. A husband and father, either through disinclination or through inability to find work, is brought into court on a charge of non-support. In order to relieve the situation, he is sent to the house of correction, where he will be kept at work. That he is not able to send his pay envelope home to his family every Saturday night—because there is no pay envelope in such cases—is, in the eye of the law, a minor circumstance. The main thing seems to be that the man has been guilty of an offense and that he is punished for it. He is punished, but it is his wife and his two helpless children who pay the penalty.

The law may be ironical, but it has no sense of humor. "You have been found guilty of not supporting your children," it says, "and therefore I will send you where you cannot support them."

Production of Mercury.

The annual production of mercury has risen to 3,525 tons. The United States produce 1,043 tons; Spain, with Almada, furnishing 834 tons; Austria, with Istria, 570 tons; Italy, Monte-Amiata, 370 tons; Russia, Nikitofka, 313 tons; Mexico, 190 tons; other countries, including Japan and China, furnish the remainder, about 300 tons.

Not the Conservatory.

Young Lady—The Musical conservatory is in this building, isn't it?

Janitor—No, mum; the Musical conservatory is 'bout two blocks down street.

Young lady, dubiously—I—I was sure I heard pupils practicing vocal exercises. Are you sure the Musical conservatory is not here?

Janitor—Yes'm. Nothin' here but dentists' offices, mum.—New York Weekly.

Old Truth Reaffirmed.

A Massachusetts widow wrote a Kansas editor to find her a big-hearted, big-bodied, whole-souled westerner for a husband. He printed the letter, and replies are pouring in by the bushel. So there will be printed an account of a wedding concluding with the frank admission that it pays to advertise.—Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

A Popular License.

Aviation licenses are being issued to young women now, but the majority will, no doubt, continue to prefer the marriage license.—Washington Herald.

Councilman-Elect Gives Version of Distrubution of Dirculay

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Sir—I take the liberty of using a little space in your paper to thank my many friends for the support given me at the election, as my easy success was entirely unexpected by me.

I also take this means to inform my many friends and the general public that the false, malicious and undeserved statements made against me at the eleventh hour were unjustified, as since the clerks' union was organized any clerks employed by me have never worked more than the hours fixed by the union, and less than some clerks have to work in so-called union stores. I never have defied organized labor in my life, but on the contrary have been a lifelong friend to the cause and helped it along in many ways. I do know that there was another candidate for council who has taken the same stand in reference to the clerks' union that I did, but no mention was made of his name in the small slanderous ciruclar passed around against me.

Thanking you for the publication of my statement, I am,

Very truly yours,
Frank Riva.

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at the time of child-birth, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

The Daily Newspaper

All experienced advertisers acknowledge that familiarity by the public with the name and nature of their wares is one of the first essentials of success. To attain this familiarity the eye must be appealed to, and appealed to repeatedly. Sporadic appeals are as useless as a bucket of water thrown on an arid plain. What the eye sees the mind holds, but they must see it daily---and the daily newspaper offers the only stable opportunity for the direct aim at the vision. The story told in the daily newspaper, day after day, is impressed on the mind. This impression is a valuable factor.

The Charleroi Mail reaches practically every English reading household in Charleroi, besides circulating up and down the river. At no time in the history of Charleroi has any Charleroi newspaper been so widely or eagerly read than is the Mail at the present time.

Over 7,000 persons read the Charleroi Mail every day

Can an advertiser by any other means reach the eyes and ears of so many people in a single day?

What would the bill distributor charge you for distributing 8,000 bill a day? Compare the cost of the bills and the distribution with the cost of an advertisement in the Mail.

WAS THE FRIEND OF A KING

Merchant Told of the Strong Attachment of King Edward for John Bright.

An interesting account is given for the first time of an incident which began the friendship that existed between John Bright and King Edward VII. The story was told by Mr. Bright in the hearing of Mr Connah, a merchant in Manchester. Mr Bright, it seems, had, at a meeting in St James' hall, rebuked those people who were criticising Queen Victoria for her rare appearances at public functions after the passing away of the prince consort. On the following morning the private secretary of King Edward (then Prince of Wales) called upon Mr. Bright with a special request from the prince to call upon him at Marlborough house. Mr. Bright at first demurred, but yielding to the pleading of the messenger, he went, and he was received in the most friendly manner by the prince and introduced to the family circle. The prince took Mr. Bright aside and as a son thanked him for his kindly words on behalf of the mourning queen, and asked to be granted the privilege of being counted among the tribune's friends. "Whatever may be my personal opinion of kings and princes," Bright said, concluding his narration of the incident, "the man before me was a son making an appeal on behalf of his mother, and I could not resist it. We shook hands, and have been close friends ever since."—Christian Science Monitor.

"John B—, New Bedford, Mass" wrote the youth, pushed back his hat, upset the kernel of rice and wiped his beaded brow

"But, er—the lady?" inquired the clerk soothingly

"She's my wife" quoth the youth, straightening up, bristling

"She ought to be registered," advised the clerk thoughtfully

"Ain't you put me down?" the lady murmured, looking over the youth's shoulder

"O sure I—I forgot Gimme the pen," said the youth, quickly.

Whereupon he smiled and wrote. "And my wife, Rosie"

PEIGNOIR AS CHURCH GOWN

Beatrice Grimshaw's South Sea Island Laundress Couldn't Resist Temptation of the Garment.

It would be hard to find a spot where the subject of dress does not sway the feminine mind To the world at large its observance causes either a great deal of pleasure or a good store of amusement. In the category of amusement may be placed the proceedings of the dusky belles described by Beatrice Grimshaw in her book, "In the Strange South Seas."

A lace-trimmed garment of mine, usually worn at night under the shelter of sheets and quilts, went to a Sunday morning church as a best dress in full daylight, on the person of the laundress intrusted with my wash. The funny side was so conspicuous that she never got the reproof she deserved.

A certain flower toque, made of poppies—a bloom unknown in the Pacific—first drove the women of the island half-distracted with excitement, then led 36 native ladies to appear simultaneously at a dance wearing excellent copies of my Paris model, done in double scarlet hibiscus from the bush

A wedding, from which, unfortunately, I was absent, furnished the finest display of native dress that took place that year The bride wore 14 silk dresses, not all at once, but one after another, changing her dress again and again during the reception, until the white spectators were fairly giddy.—Youth's Companion.

Truth About "Midnight Oil."

People talk about the midnight oil as if it had some virtue attached to it In truth, four times out of five, the midnight oil is mere over-work, or means that you have neglected some duty to which you should have attended before the sun went below the horizon.—Edward Everett Hale.

Not So Bad as That.

Small Demand for Buttons.

The Rev. G. Preston Tonge of St. Paul's church, Yarmouth, England, in his Parish Magazine, under the heading of "Acknowledgments," says: "Several anonymous contributions of buttons have been received. We are still wondering how to use these gifts to the best advantage in the district, as, for obvious reasons, they are unsuited to the needs of the branch"

Relative Prominence.

"That distinguished guest made quite an impression in your community during his brief visit." "Yes," replied Farmer Corntassel; "there were moments when he seemed nigh as important as the chairman of the reception committee."

Evidently He Was Jealous.

A strange plea for divorce was unsuccessfully put forward in the French courts recently by a man who complained that his wife had allowed her photographs to be used on picture postcards against his will.

Dangerous Fool.

The fool who cries "Fire!" in a public assemblage is a far greater public menace than the fool who rocks the boat, for his opportunity to sacrifice human life is immeasurably greater.

Few There Are Who Learn Wisdom.

A Chicago woman tried to undo a hard knot in her dress by burning it. She succeeded in exactly the same swift, comprehensive way in which the reluctant morning fire is started with kerosene So few are the wise people who learn from experience of the foolish ones

She Knew What to Do.

A North side matron, directing an electric coupe for the first time, ventured far out on the South side and punctured a tire. She drove home on the rim and came in for a scientific treatise on tires from her husband.

"Never drive the electric with a busted tire," said he. "It will ruin the tire, and tires cost money"

Another puncture followed a few days later, but this time she was not far from home.

Also this time she did not drive the rest of the way.

She sat in her chariot and six boys pushed her home.—Chicago Post.

I'll Look Around a Little

THAT'S what four lookers said Saturday afternoon. We were satisfied. Within an hour three of them were back and bought the shoes they had tried on, and the universal opinion was that

"Our Shoes Fit Better, Have More Style Than any in Town and Prices No Higher."

It pleases us to have people make comparison. It's the only way to tell who has the best.

TO TEND LIGHTS

Steamer Swan Takes Place of Goldenrod in Lighthouse Service

ON TRIP UP THE RIVER

The United States Steamer Swan, of which W. H. Shannon, is captain, is out now on the second annual inspection of lighthouses. The inspection started Monday and will be finished this week along the Monongahela river.

The Steamer Swan takes the place of the Goldenrod, the light house tender, which recently went out of commision The duties of the Swan will be to look after beacon lights.

Individuals take care of the lights along the Monongahela Valley. Each of the beacon lights will be painted white Oil, wicks and chimneys will be left for each.

While on the tour the Swan, which has headquarters at North Charleroi passes out of the jurisdiction of the War department into the Navy department under which the lighthouse inspection is carried on now. It is manned by a separate set of officials.

Their Particular Sin.

A school for poor children having read in their chapter in the Bible the denunciations against hypocrites who "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel," were afterwards examined by the benevolent patroness, Lady—, as to their recollection of the chapter "What, in particular, was the sin of the Pharisees, children?" and the lady, "Ating camels, my lady," was the prompt reply.

Good Mental Tonic.

As appearance means so much to the average woman, mentally as well as socially, the question often arises, "Is she justified in aiding or improving nature if she sees fit?" Many of our well-known medical men think that "make-up" is as good a mental tonic as anyone can take and greatly advise its use, especially for the girl who has some slight personal defect—a scar, a poor complexion or bloodless lips, for the knowledge of her defects makes her shy and oftentimes sulky and miserable

Anniversary Remembered

In honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mrs C. Brown the ladies of the Dewdrop Euchre club of the Charleroi Turn Verein presented her with a beautiful water set of cut glass last evening It was a complete surprise and the secret was well kept. This took place in the Turn Verein after the regular euchre was over To the astonishment of Mrs Brown the ladies brought to light numerous hidden baskets and in a few minutes had the tables set for a fine repast which was heartily enjoyed. The evening wound up with music and a dance. The Dewdrop Euchre club was organized three years ago by Mrs. Brown, and meets every Tuesday evening at the Turner Hall.

Odd Sentences.

"Break rock for 100 days or go to church every Sunday for six months," was the sentence imposed upon three Kansas City (Mo) boys, after they had been convicted of throwing eggs at pedestrians

"I sentence this boy to a whipping every morning for a month Not the namby pamby kind, but good, real hard ones, ones that'll make him eat off a mantelpiece You'll find then that he'll develop into a good boy" This was the remedy prescribed by magisterial wisdom in the case of an eight-year-old boy who, his mother said, had a mania for running away from home.—Case and Comment.

Land Without Trees.

Thorshaven, the capital city of the Faroe islands, is said to be absolutely treeless. The claim is made that for some reason, perhaps soil conditions, trees absolutely refuse to grow there.

Donora's Big Vote.

Donora polled the banner Republican vote of the county at the election Tuesday, giving majorities for the county ticket of from 500 to 600. Dr. A. V. Lewis, Donora's candidate for prothonotary, went out of his home town with 681 majority over Martin, his Democratic-Keystone opponent, who only polled 95 votes.

GIRLS ACCUSED OF BURGLARLY

Pathetic Scene When Two 12-Year-Olds Are Called Before Court

Pitiable conditions were revealed in juvenile court at Washington Monday when Sylvia Spencer and Lucinde Phoebe Williams, girls of 12 years of age, were up to answer the serious charges of felonious entry and larceny. The two children had entered the home of A. J Young in Washington and taken from there on two different occasions jewelry, clothing, handkerchiefs and other stuff. This they admitted. They also entered the cellar of a Mrs Thompson and carried away several cans of fruit

The girls are daughters of Elijah and Anna Spencer and Robert and Alice Williams respectively.

It came out in the evidence that Mrs. Williams has a very hard row to hoe and that conditions at her home are not the best for children Her husband is bed-ridden with tuberculosos, and three or four of her eight children are tubercular and are taking treatment One son was at Mount Alto and would not remain there The daughter who is before the court is said to be tubercular. These conditions resulted in the children not receiving the attention they should.

In the Spencer home the conditions were found to be very bad. There is a family of eight The father is ill with asthma or tuberculosos and the children have not been brought up in a very strict manner. Mrs. Spencer said she could do nothing with her daughter that she knew she was committing these wrongs, as she brought stolen goods home. The girl would also remain out at nights

Rev. Mr. Standt, of the mission, North Main and Walnut street suggested to the court that a local family had agreed to take the Williams girl, give her a home, send her to school and take care of her. The court believed that if the conditions in this home suggested were satisfactory that the Williams girl would be given into that family's charge. The court made no order as to either girl, pending a future investigation.

REPUBLICAN TICKET BROKEN IN ONE PLACE ONLY

carrying the most of the precincts with the average Republican majority.

The first and the fourth precincts turned out the largest votes, the smallest being the fifth The vote was divided among the various precincts as follows:

First	297
Second	175
Third	126
Fourth	231
Fifth	90
Sixth	140
Total	1,059

The Republicans polled 229 straight tickets, the Democrats 41, the Keystoners 30, the Socialists 48 and the Prohibitionists 3. While the Socialists polled 48 straight tickets, some of the candidates developed more strength, Louis Goaziou of Charleroi Socialist candidate for prothonotary receiving 87 votes The Prohibition vote, which used to be between 30 and 40 was almost entirely lost in the shuffle

The count was long and arduous, the board in the first precinct not finishing up their work until nearly 7 o'clock this morning. Much interest was manifested in the borough election and many remained up until a late hour anxiously awaiting returns By midnight it was evident that the Republican borough ticket generally had won, and there was consequent rejoicing among the interested ones who worked for the success of that ticket

A final tabulation of the votes shows T. R. Eagye a winner on the fusion ticket over John Fries, Republican, for school director.
